WGIC26 opens the door to scientific publication opportunities

Authors whose papers have been accepted for presentation at WGIC26 will have the opportunity to gain further visibility through leading scientific publications in the field.

Among these opportunities, selected contributions may be considered for fast-track publication in a Special Issue of the Journal of Living Architecture (JLIV), the peer-reviewed journal of the Green Infrastructure Foundation (GIF), affiliated with Green Roofs for Healthy Cities (GRHC).

JLIV is written, reviewed, and edited by living architecture professionals and shares original research, educational applications, scholarly perspectives, resources, and critical discussions related to the living architecture sector.

This opportunity reinforces WGIC26's commitment to supporting high-quality research and helping accepted authors extend the impact of their work beyond the congress.
